

Dear Teacher,

One of your students is interested in starting a Yuda Bands service project at your school. Yuda Bands is a non profit organization that has been partnering with US schools for 11 years. Our project is a great option for students looking for a unique community service opportunity. We would be honored to have your support!

We work with Guatemalan artisans to make handmade leather and coconut shell bracelets. We then ship these bands along with posters and other promotional materials to schools for teachers and student leaders to sell on campus to the student body. The funds raised are used to pay high school fees for youth in developing countries who wouldn't otherwise be able to attend high school. Your student even gets to choose the which international student they help and can virtually meet them.

We know your time is limited, so we would work directly with the student who gave you this letter to prep and complete the project however they may need your help in the following ways:

- Assisting to approve daily sales on campus in a high traffic area
- The use your room for meetings to organize the project
- Storing the Yuda Bands in a secure location between sales
- Overseeing that all money is turned into the finance office
- Submitting the invoice to the finance secretary when sales are complete
- Assisting your student leader in preparing leftover bands for return shipping

Please note, the Yuda Band bracelets would be shipped to your school at NO cost. The sales only last two weeks and any unsold bands will be returned (no shipping expense to you). You simply send the money collected from the bands you sell, which are sold for $10 each. You can find more details at yudabands.org/project. Thank you for your time, I hope we can work with you in the near future.

Sincerely yours,

Phillip Whiting
